6 The above-captioned cases came on for trial before the undersigned United 7 States Bankruptcy Judge on October 15, 2015 in the contested matter of the Motion to 8 Revoke and/or Vacate Dismissals; Request for Appointment of Trustee [DN 443] (the 9 “Revoke Motion”) of the Chapter 7 Trustee, Richard K. Diamond (the “Trustee”), of 10 Corona Care Convalescent Corp. (Case No. 2:13-bk-28497) and Corona Care 11 Retirement, Inc. (Case No. 2:13-bk-28519) (the “Corona Debtors”).¹ Appearances at 12 the trial were made as reflected on the record.

13 Good cause appearing therefor, pursuant to Federal Rules of Bankruptcy 14 Procedure 7052 and 9014 and Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 52, the court finds and 15 concludes as follows:²

Code and for an Order Dismissing Chapter 11 Case. The Stipulation provided in pertinent part the following:

CONDITIONS OF STIPULATION TO DISMISSAL

As a condition to the agreement of the Committee and HCF to the dismissal as requested by Debtors, the Parties have agreed as follows:

1. The Pasadena Debtors and PHM shall pay all secured and priority claims of the Pasadena Debtors and PHM, if any, in full and shall make a payment of up to $250,000 to all general unsecured creditors of the Pasadena Debtors exclusive of HCF, as soon as possible after the effective date of the dismissals but in no event later than September 30, 2014. . . . Any portion of the $250,000 not paid to general unsecured creditors of the Pasadena Debtors shall remain available for payment of professionals' administrative claims as set forth below.

2. Immediately following entry of the dismissal orders for the Pasadena
Debtors and PHM, the Pasadena Debtors and PHM shall pay HCF $550,000.00 by wire transfer of immediately available funds (the "HCF Payment") which shall be applied as a partial payment against the principal amount of HCF's judgment against the Debtors. . . .⁴

3. The Pasadena Debtors and PHM shall pay all non-insider administrative claims in the ordinary course of business, except for professional fees which shall remain subject to the Court's jurisdiction and the filing of fee applications. . . . In order to implement the foregoing, the Pasadena Debtors and PHM have $1.2 million available for distribution to creditors. The professionals will share pro rata in the balance of the funds after the payments to the creditors described above—subject to the filing of fee applications and approval of such fees by the Court. Any approved and unpaid professional fees will be treated as administrative claims in the Corona Debtors' cases, and shall be paid with the same priority as such professional's administrative claims in the Corona Debtors' cases. This treatment was agreed to as part of the Settlement, and is appropriate because of the significant overlap in

⁴ HCF's judgment was approximately $3.8 million. Request for Judicial Notice in Support of Revoke Motion [DN 471],

4 Stipulation re: Motion Pursuant to Sections 305(a) and 1112(b) of the Bankruptcy
5 Code and for an Order Dismissing Chapter 11 Case at 4-5.

6 On August 28, 2014, the court entered the “Order Granting Motion Pursuant to 7 Sections 305(a) and 1112(b) of the Bankruptcy Code for an Order Dismissing Chapter 8 11 Case” (the “Dismissal Order”), granting the motion of the Pasadena Debtors for an 9 order dismissing their Chapter 11 cases pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 305(a) and 1112(b), 10 “as modified by the Stipulation.” See Dismissal Order [DN 382].⁵

11 On August 27, 2015, the instant motion was filed by the Committee and was 12 heard on shortened notice on September 2, 2015 [DN 443]. On August 28, 2015, the 13 Trustee filed a notice of joinder [DN 449] and, on October 13, 2015, the Trustee filed 14 a request to substitute the Trustee as the Movant for the Revoke Motion, which was 15 approved by the court. On September 1, 2015, Venable LLP, former counsel and 16 creditor of the Pasadena Debtors, and Howard Ehrenberg, the Chapter 11 Trustee of 17 the Garfield Debtors, also filed joinders to the Revoke Motion [DN 454 and 455, 18 respectively]. On August 31, 2015, HCF filed a written opposition to the Revoke 19 Motion [DN 453].

20 A further hearing was conducted on September 9, 2015, at which time the court 21 set a schedule of discovery and trial proceedings [DN 461]. On September 23, 2015, 22 the Pasadena Debtors filed a written opposition to the motion [DN 462]. On October 23 13, 2015, HCF filed a conditional withdrawal of its opposition to the motion [DN 24 468], subject to the court’s approval of an order approving the Revoke Motion in the 25 form and substance as proposed by the Trustee and HCF regarding the treatment of 1 HCF's claim and lien. On October 13, 2015, the Trustee filed a reply and request for 2 judicial notice in support of the Revoke Motion [DN 470 and 471, respectively]. On 3 October 13, 2015, the Pasadena Debtors and Mrs. Ferrer filed a Declaration of 4 Felicidad Ferrer in support of their opposition [DN 472].

5 On October 15, 2015, the court conducted a one-day trial on the motion as a 6 contested matter under Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 9014, at which time the 7 court received evidence, including witness testimony by declaration and exhibits 8 submitted by the parties. On October 16, 2015, pursuant to the court's directive at 9 trial, the Trustee submitted proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law after trial 10 and, on October 19, 2015, submitted revised proposed findings of fact and conclusions 11 of law [DN 477 and 479]. On October 19, 2015, also pursuant to the court's directive 12 at trial, the Pasadena Debtors and Mrs. Ferrer filed written objections to the proposed 13 findings of fact and conclusions of law submitted by the Trustee [DN 478]. In their 14 objections to the Trustee's proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law, the 15 Pasadena Debtors and Mrs. Ferrer argue that the motion should be denied for failure 16 of proof, that is, not meeting the standard of clear and convincing evidence for fraud 17 based on misrepresentation [DN 478 at 1-10]. The Pasadena Debtors chide the 18 Trustee and his counsel for not presenting live testimony of their witnesses or calling 19 Mrs. Ferrer as a witness. Id. The Trustee presented the direct testimony of his 20 nonadverse, cooperative witnesses by declaration which was required by the court's 21 trial procedures (available on the court's website) with cross, redirect and recross 22 examination conducted live, which is permissible under Federal Rule of Civil 23 Procedure 43(a) and Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 9017 as recognized in In 24 re Adair, 965 F.2d 777, 789-790 (9th Cir. 1992) (citations omitted); see also, 3 March, 25 Ahart and Shapiro, California Practice Guide – Bankruptcy ¶ 20:341 at 20-48 (2014).
26 The court received the direct testimony of the Trustee's witnesses, and Mrs. Ferrer, the 27 Pasadena Debtors' witness, by declaration in accordance with these procedures, but 28 none of these witnesses testified live because neither the Trustee nor the Pasadena

1 Debtors requested any cross-examination of the witnesses, although they had the 2 opportunity to do so, but chose for whatever reason, tactical or otherwise, not to.
3 Although there was no cross-examination of any witness, the court may determine the 4 credibility of the witnesses initially “through the factual consistency in the 5 declarations.” In re Adair, 965 F.2d at 780. Moreover, the court can assess the 6 credibility of the witnesses by considering the substance of the testimony in the 7 declarations against the other evidence admitted at trial, including the exhibits and the 8 matters for which the court may take judicial notice.

9 B. The Trustee has shown that the Pasadena Debtors and the Insiders 10 made misrepresentations upon which the Professionals and the 11 Committee relied in agreeing to allow the dismissals of the Pasadena 12 Debtors’ bankruptcy cases.

13 Over the months following the Settlement, the Jointly Administered Debtors 14 made repeated representations to this court, the Committee, and the estate 15 professionals (the “Professionals”), including the financial advisor for the Jointly 16 Administered Debtors, the consulting firm of Crowe Horwath, LLP, and the attorneys 17 for the Committee, the law firm of Alston & Bird, LLP, that they were in the process 18 of refinancing the Pasadena Real Properties, the proceeds of which were to provide the 19 funding for the Settlement and a plan of reorganization in the Corona Cases. See 20 Revoke Motion [DN 443], Stanfield Decl., ¶ 3; Reply to Revoke Motion [DN 470], 21 Schwarzmann Decl., ¶ 5.

22 In or about August 2014, the Jointly Administered Debtors and the Insiders 23 made representations to the Committee and the Professionals that they had received 24 approval for financing sufficient to fund the exit from bankruptcy by the Pasadena 25 Debtors and the Corona Debtors in accordance with the terms of the Settlement (the 26 “Financing”); that the funding was “imminent” but that the lender required that the 27 Pasadena Debtors’ bankruptcy cases be dismissed before the loan would fund; and that 28 the priority claims of the Pasadena Debtors’ estates, including administrative claims of 1 the Professionals which have priority under 11 U.S.C. § 507(a)(2), would be paid in 2 full, and that any amount of such claims remaining unpaid from the Pasadena Debtors’ 3 estates would be paid through the Corona Cases in the same priority as the 4 professionals’ claims in the Corona Cases. See Revoke Motion [DN 443], Stanfield 5 Decl., ¶ 4; Reply to Revoke Motion [DN 470], Schwarzmans Decl., ¶¶ 4-6, 10. The 6 Jointly Administered Debtors and the Insiders proposed that the Settlement be 7 accomplished in two steps. First, providing for dismissal of the Pasadena cases, 8 allowing them to re-finance the Pasadena Real Properties; second, the completion of 9 the Settlement through a plan of reorganization for the Corona Debtors. See Revoke 10 Motion [DN 443], Stanfield Decl., ¶¶ 4-5; Reply to Revoke Motion [DN 470], 11 Schwarzmans Decl., ¶ 8; Request for Judicial Notice in Support of Revoke Motion, 12 Exhibit 5, Stipulation Re: Motion Pursuant to Sections 305(a) and 1112(b) of the 13 Bankruptcy Code and for an Order Dismissing Chapter 11 Case, at 4, ¶ 11; 5, ¶ 3.

14 According to the financial advisor for the Jointly Administered Debtors, Michael 15 Schwarzmans with the Crowe Horwath firm, Mrs. Ferrer represented to him that the 16 Jointly Administered Debtors and the Insiders were receiving sufficient funds to 17 implement the Settlement through the sale of one of the Insiders’ other health care 18 facilities and then through “EB-5” financing based on the Pasadena Real Properties, 19 which would sufficiently fund the Settlement, including the reorganization of the 20 Corona Debtors and the payment of any still outstanding professional fees from the 21 Pasadena Cases. Reply to Revoke Motion [DN 470], Schwarzmans Decl., ¶¶ 4-9; see 22 also, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services, “About the EB-5 Visa” (online 23 description of the foreign immigrant investor visa program known as “EB-5”), 24 http://www.uscis/working-united-states/permanent-workers/employment-based-
25 immigration-fifth-preference-eb-5/about-eb-5-visa. According to Mr. Schwarzmans, 26 this was a lie as despite Mrs. Ferrer’s representations that the EB-5 financing was 27 “imminent,” it never materialized as discussed below that the Corona Debtors failed in 28 their efforts to consummate the settlement and the Pasadena Debtors and the Insiders

1 took out secured financing encumbering the Pasadena Real Properties different from 2 the “imminent” EB-5 financing which did not raise sufficient funds to implement the 3 Settlement and pay the claims of the Professionals as represented. Id., ¶¶ 4-10.

4 This representation was also made to the court when the Jointly Administered 5 Debtors moved for dismissal of their Pasadena Cases (the “Motion to Dismiss”). The 6 Motion to Dismiss expressly provided that:

8 17. The Debtors submit that sufficient causes exists for the 9 dismissal of their chapter 11 cases. As the Court is aware, the Debtors 10 have tirelessly worked to raise capital to implement an exit strategy for 11 these cases and to make distributions to the creditors. The Debtors have 12 had numerous disappointments but were finally able to raise the capital 13 necessary to implement the settlement in two phases.

14 18. The first phase requires the dismissal of the Debtors’ cases.
15 Through the dismissal of these cases, the Debtors believe that they can 16 obtain sufficient financing which will provide the liquidity necessary to 17 implement an exit strategy for the Corona Care Convalescent, Inc. and 18 Corona Care Retirement Inc. cases (the “Corona Cases”). Because of 19 their debt structure, the Corona Cases cannot implement an exit strategy 20 at this time—the dismissal and refinancing of the Debtors is necessary in 21 order to generate the liquidity necessary to pay down the debts of the 22 Corona Cases.

23 19. As noted above, the Debtors have agreed to pay all secured 24 and priority claims, if any, in full and to make a payment of $250,000 to 25 all general unsecured creditors exclusive of HCF. Subject to certain other 26 terms and conditions and in the event that HCF does not oppose the 27 Motion, the Debtors will make a payment of $500,000 to HCF which 28 shall be applied against the principal amount of HCF’s judgment against the Debtors. The Debtors shall pay all administrative claims in the ordinary course of business, except for professional fees which shall remain subject to the Court’s jurisdiction and the filing of fee applications. The fees of the Office of the United States Trustee shall be paid in full by the Debtors. In order to implement the foregoing, the Debtors anticipate having approximately $1.2 million available for distribution to creditors. The professionals will share prorata in the balance of the funds after the payments to the creditors described

1 above—subject to the filing of fee applications and approval of such fees
2 by the Court. Any approved and unpaid professional fees will be paid by 3 the Corona Cases.

4 20. The Debtors believe that the dismissal of these cases is in the 5 best interests of the creditors as it will not only provide for a material (if 6 not full) payment to the creditors but it will also pave the way for the 7 Corona Cases to reorganize. The conversion of these cases will simply 8 lead to a liquidation and no recovery for the creditors because of the 9 Debtors' short-term leases. In addition, the Debtors believe that conversion will put the health of the patients at risk. In light of the options available to the parties, the Debtors believes that dismissal is warranted.

10 Notice of Motion and Motion Pursuant to Sections 305(a) and 1112(b) of the 11 Bankruptcy Code for an Order Dismissing Chapter 11 Cases [DN 366], at 6-7, 12 ¶¶ 17-20 (emphasis added).

13 In these cited provisions of the unopposed Motion to Dismiss, the Jointly 14 Administered Debtors and the Insiders represented to the court and the Parties and 15 agreed that they needed to dismiss the Pasadena Debtors' cases to obtain the 16 Financing that would generate the liquidity to pay down the Corona 17 Debtors' debts and to provide funding to reorganize the Corona Debtors in the 18 remaining bankruptcy cases, and that any approved professional fees not paid by the 19 Pasadena Debtors as a result of the dismissals would be treated as administrative 20 claims in the Corona Debtors' cases, and would be paid with the same priority as such 21 professionals' administrative claims in the Corona Debtors' cases. See id.; see also,
22 Revoke Motion [DN 443], Stanfield Decl., ¶¶ 4-5; Reply to Revoke Motion [DN
23 470], Schwarzmann Decl., ¶ 8; Request for Judicial Notice in Support of Revoke 24 Motion [DN 471], Exhibit 5, Stipulation re: Motion Pursuant to Sections 305(a) and 25 1112(b) of the Bankruptcy Code and for an Order Dismissing Chapter 11 Case, at 4, ¶ 26 1; 5, ¶ 3. There is no factual dispute that these representations were made.

1 Based on the evidence admitted at trial, the court finds that the representations 2 that the Financing was approved and that the funding of the loan was imminent were 3 untrue and constitute misrepresentations. See Reply to Revoke Motion, Schwarzman 4 Decl., ¶ 11. Neither the Pasadena Debtors nor the Insiders have offered any evidence 5 denying that these representations were made. See Opposition to Revoke Motion file 6 by the Pasadena Debtors and Felicidad Ferrer [DN 462]; Declaration of Felicidad 7 Ferrer in Support of Opposition to Revoke Motion [DN 472].

8 The Trustee offered substantial and credible evidence that the representations in 9 support of the Settlement were untrue. Before the Pasadena Debtors' cases were 10 dismissed, the Pasadena Debtors, the Garfield Debtors and Mrs. Ferrer, among others, 11 obligated the Pasadena and Garfield Debtors on a "Secured Promissory Note," dated 12 August 1, 2014, for $1 million (the "Investor's Pot Note")—secured by real property 13 that was to secure the Financing, including the real property located at 1415 North 14 Garfield Avenue in Pasadena, and by the personal property of the Pasadena Debtors.
15 See Reply to Revoke Motion [DN 470], Supplemental Ehrenberg Decl., ¶¶ 7-8 and 16 Exhibit B thereto, at 43 and 44, ¶ 4. The Investor's Pot Note was not approved by this 17 court, nor was it disclosed to the court and to the Professionals, including the Pasadena 18 Debtors' own financial advisor, Mr. Schwarzmenn with the Crowe Horwath firm. See 19 Reply to Revoke Motion [470], Supplemental Ehrenberg Decl., ¶ 9; Reply to Revoke 20 Motion [DN 470], Schwarzmenn Decl., ¶ 9.

21 Furthermore, contrary to the terms of the Stipulation, the Corona Debtors 22 sought to dismiss their bankruptcy cases. The Stipulation provides that:

23
24 Either (i) failure to file a Disclosure Statement and Plan in the Corona 25 estates consistent with the terms of the Settlement on or before 26 September 30, 2014 (or such further date as the Committee may agree) 27 or (ii) failure to confirm a plan in the Corona estates consistent with the 28 terms of the Settlement on or before February 28, 2015, shall result in the immediate employment by the Corona Debtors' estates of a broker for the purpose of selling the Corona facilities.

2 See Request for Judicial Notice in Support of Revoke Motion [DN 471], Exhibit 5, 3 Stipulation re: Motion Pursuant to Sections 305(a) and 1112(b) of the Bankruptcy
4 Code and for an Order Dismissing Chapter 11 Case, at 6, ¶ 7. The Corona Debtors 5 did not confirm a plan before February 28, 2015, and thereafter failed to employ a 6 broker; therefore, the Committee filed a “Request of Official Committee of 7 Unsecured Creditors to Enforce Order to Sell Assets of Debtors and for Appointment 8 of a Chapter 11 Trustee” [DN 141 in Corona Cases]. On March 4, 2015, the Corona 9 Debtors filed a response opposing the United States Trustee’s motion for appointment 10 of a Chapter 11 trustee, requesting instead that the court dismiss the Corona Debtors’ 11 cases. See Debtors’ Response to the United States Trustee’s Motion Under 11 U.S.C.
12 § 1112(b)(1) to Convert, Dismiss or Appoint a Chapter 11 Trustee [DN 163 in Corona 13 Cases]. On March 6, 2015, the court entered an order granting the United States
14 Trustee’s request to appoint a Chapter 11 Trustee to serve in the Corona Cases [DN 15 171 in Corona Cases].

16 The Trustee contends that the Pasadena Debtors and their Insiders further 17 misrepresented throughout the pendency of their bankruptcy cases that the leases 18 between the Pasadena Debtors and the Garfield Debtors (the “Leases”) were set to 19 expire on December 31, 2013, and that therefore the Pasadena Debtors were 20 essentially unsaleable as going concern businesses, see Revoke Motion [DN 443], 21 Stanfield Decl., ¶ 6 and Exhibits 1-3 thereto, noting that since that time, the 22 Professionals have learned of copies of the Pasadena Debtors’ Leases which bear a 23 different expiration date of December 31, 2015, two of which are otherwise 24 substantially identical to Exhibits 2 and 3, see Revoke Motion [DN 443], Stanfield 25 Decl., ¶ 7 and Exhibits 4-6 thereto. While the Trustee’s contention appears to be 26 supported by the evidence, the court does not give much weight to this evidence 27 because the Insiders controlled both the Pasadena Debtors and the Garfield Debtors 28 and could have extended the Leases on their own until the bankruptcy cases for the 1 Garfield Debtors were filed and a trustee was appointed for those cases. The court

2 understood that the Pasadena Debtors could not have been sold as going concerns 3 unless there were extended leases for them or the Pasadena Debtors were sold with the 4 Garfield Debtors.

5 Based on the foregoing, the court finds that the Trustee has proven by clear and 6 convincing evidence that the Pasadena Debtors and the Insiders made material 7 misrepresentations to the creditors, including the Committee and the Professionals, 8 that the Pasadena Debtors and the Insiders needed the dismissal of the Pasadena Cases 9 in order to obtain the Financing to pay the Corona Debtors' debt and to reorganize the 10 Corona Debtors in the Corona Cases, rather than the financing efforts for the Corona 11 Cases being a sham, and the Pasadena Debtors and the Insiders were really seeking 12 financing undisclosed to the creditors and the court, which encumbered the Pasadena 13 Real Properties, for their own purposes and the proceeds of such were not committed 14 to what they had pledged to do for the Corona Cases, and that these 15 misrepresentations induced the creditors to enter into the Stipulation and not oppose 16 the Motion to Dismiss the Pasadena Cases. In proving that the Pasadena Debtors and 17 the Insiders made these misrepresentations by clear and convincing evidence, the 18 Trustee has satisfied the standard of Rule 60(b)(3) of the Federal Rules of Civil 19 Procedure based on misrepresentations. The judgment in this instance was the 20 Dismissal Order for the Pasadena Debtors, which the Jointly Administered Debtors 21 and the Insiders with the consent of the creditors, including the Committee and the 22 Professionals, consent was procured through the misrepresentations. In this regard, 23 the court finds that the direct testimony of the Trustee's witnesses, Ms. Stanfield, Mr.
24 Schwarzmann, Ms. Tate and Mr. Ehrenberg, to be credible, especially considered in 25 context with the other evidence presented by the Trustee described herein to 26 corroborate their testimony, including the documentary evidence, especially the 27 representations in the Stipulation and the Motion to Dismiss the Pasadena Cases, and 28 the events and proceedings in these cases for which the court may take judicial notice.

1 The court also finds that based on the fact that the Jointly Administered Debtors
2 and the Insiders were negotiating and entered into the undisclosed secured financing 3 with Investor's Pot at the same time they had sought and obtained the assent of the 4 creditors, including the Committee and the Professionals, to the Stipulation and 5 Dismissal of the Pasadena Cases, telling the latter that the "EB-5" financing was 6 "imminent" to sufficiently fund the reorganization of the Corona Cases and payment 7 of creditor claims, including those of the Professionals, the misrepresentations were 8 not innocent, but intentional, indicating "extrinsic fraud" (i.e., a party prevented by a 9 trick, artifice or other fraudulent conduct from fairly presenting his claim through 10 entering into the Stipulation and not opposing Dismissal of the Pasadena Cases).

11 Alternatively, the court finds that the Trustee has also shown by clear and 12 convincing evidence that the Pasadena Debtors and the Insiders failed to disclose 13 material facts to the creditors, including the Committee and the Professionals, that 14 there was no EB-5 Financing, imminent or otherwise, to reorganize and pay debts of 15 the Jointly Administered Debtors, including the obligations owed to the Professionals, 16 through the Corona Cases, and that the Jointly Administered Debtors and the Insiders 17 had already committed to obtaining secured financing from the Investor's Pot Note, 18 which was inadequate to accomplish the represented objectives of paying the 19 remaining debts through the Corona Cases, which financing was obtained 20 prejudgment, but not disclosed to the creditors and the court, and that these failures to 21 disclose material facts induced the creditors to enter into the Stipulation and not 22 oppose the Motion to Dismiss the Pasadena Cases.

23 C. The Professionals and the Committee detrimentally relied upon the 24 misrepresentations of the Pasadena Debtors and the Insiders.

25 The court finds that based on the evidence offered by the Trustee, in reliance on 26 the misrepresentations of the Insiders and the Pasadena Debtors, the Professionals and 27 the Committee entered into the Stipulation, which was executed by counsel for the 28 Insiders, the Jointly Administered Debtors, the Committee and HCF. See Revoke

1 Motion [DN 443], Stanfield Decl., ¶ 5; Reply to Revoke Motion [DN 470],
2 Schwarzmman Decl., ¶ 11; Request for Judicial Notice in Support of Revoke Motion
3 [DN 471], Exhibit 5, Stipulation re: Motion Pursuant to Sections 305(a) and 1112(b) 4 of the Bankruptcy Code and for an Order Dismissing Chapter 11 Case.

5 The court also finds that in reliance on these misrepresentations, the 6 Professionals agreed that the Insiders would receive their equity through the dismissal 7 of the bankruptcy cases; the Professionals would accept less than the full amounts of 8 their approved administrative claims from the Pasadena Debtors, agreeing instead that 9 their fees would be paid from the Corona Cases funded by the re-financing of the 10 Pasadena Real Properties, which was represented to be imminent pending dismissal of 11 the Pasadena Debtors' bankruptcy cases; and the largest creditor of the estate agreed to 12 be paid a fraction of its claim in connection with the dismissals of the Pasadena 13 Debtors' cases, while other general unsecured creditors were paid in full, subject to its 14 other rights and remedies under the Stipulation. See Revoke Motion [DN 443],

17 Stipulation re: Motion Pursuant to Sections 305(a) and 1112(b) of the Bankruptcy
18 Code and for an Order Dismissing Chapter 11 Case, at 4-5, 7.

19 The court finds that based on this evidentiary record that the Professionals and 20 the Committee would not have agreed to allow the Pasadena Debtors' cases to be 21 dismissed and the equity in those entities to be returned to the Insiders for anything 22 less than full payment of their claims if they had known that the representations were 23 untrue. See Revoke Motion [DN 443], Stanfield Decl., ¶¶ 5; Reply to Revoke Motion

3 D. The Trustee has shown that there is a serious and imminent risk to 4 the safety and well-being of the patients in the facilities operated by 5 the Pasadena Debtors.

6 In her direct testimony, Rachel Tate, the Long-Term Care Ombudsman and 7 Elder Abuse Prevention Program’s representative of WISE & Healthy Aging, testified 8 that she has grave concerns about the health and welfare of the residents and of the 9 patient care facilities operated by the Pasadena Debtors on the Pasadena Real 10 Properties. Reply to Revoke Motion [DN 470], Tate Decl., ¶ 9. She further testified 11 that the facilities are not providing an environment that is free of health and safety 12 hazards nor are they providing the necessary care and supervision to meet the needs of 13 the residents. See id., ¶¶ 5 and 9 and Exhibit A thereto, Noncompliance Summaries & 14 Facility Evaluation Reports at 18, 21, 26, 29, 30, 31, 34, 37, 38, 39. Additionally, she 15 further testified that the possibility of a lapse in a licensee at the facilities could mean 16 that the more than 200 residents will require relocation. See id., Tate Decl., ¶ 9. Ms.
17 Tate declared under penalty of perjury that “this is a monumental task, and [would] 18 result[] in serious disruption to the residents—especially since a large percentage of 19 these residents are mentally ill, and changes to their routine are detrimental to their 20 well-being.” See id., ¶ 9.

21 Ms. Tate also testified: “There currently is a rampant rodent and bed bug 22 infestation (so bad that I have observed bed bugs and cockroaches crawling up the 23 walls, on furnishings, and on the carpet).” See id., ¶¶ 5-6 and Exhibit A thereto, 24 Noncompliance Summaries & Facility Evaluation Reports at 18, 21, 22, 26, 29, 30, 25 31, 34, 37, 38, 39. Based on Ms. Tate’s declaration, the Facilities have been cited 26 “repeatedly” for these and other problems, resulting in a Noncompliance Conference 27 held on September 29, 2015, with the Community Care Licensing Division 28 (“CCLD”) to address the “numerous serious infractions and noncompliance issues.”

1 See id., Tate Decl., ¶ 6 and Exhibit A thereto, Noncompliance Summaries & Facility 2 Evaluation Reports. She also testified that there is a serious lack of programming and 3 a lack of meaningful activities, which further compromises the quality of life for 4 residents and leaves residents with more time to engage in conflicts with each other.
5 See id., Tate Decl., ¶ 8. The court finds that Ms. Tate's testimony regarding the 6 safety and health concerns of the patients at the facilities operated by the Pasadena 7 Debtors to present health and safety risks to the patients to be credible. The Pasadena 8 Debtors offered no evidence at trial to rebut Ms. Tate's testimony.

9 E. Because the Pasadena Debtors are at imminent risk of losing the 10 right to operate in the facilities as a result of the impending 11 expiration of their Leases, their defaults in the payment of rent, and 12 an impending foreclosure of the real properties, and it is critical that 13 the Licenses for the facilities be transitioned to a new operator, 14 creditors of the Pasadena Debtors and third parties, the patients at 15 the facilities are put at serious risk because any value in the assets of 16 the Pasadena Debtors cannot be realized if the Leases expire and 17 they cannot continue to operate and there is no contingency plan for 18 continued care of the patients if the Pasadena Debtors cannot 19 continue operations without new leases.

20 The court finds that it is an undisputed fact that the Pasadena Debtors are in 21 default under their Leases with their landlords, the Garfield Debtors, owing more 22 than $950,000.00 in unpaid rent. See Reply to Revoke Motion [DN 470], 23 Supplemental Ehrenberg Decl., ¶ 4. In his capacity as trustee of the Pasadena 24 landlord entities, Howard M. Ehrenberg (the "Garfield Trustee") has made demand 25 on the Pasadena Debtors to commence paying rent, but from the date he was 26 appointed as Garfield Trustee through and including the present, no rent has been 27 paid. See id., ¶ 6.

1 According to Mr. Ehrenberg, the Garfield Trustee has negotiated with the 2 secured lender of the Garfield Debtors to allow him an opportunity to sell the 3 Pasadena Real Properties for the benefit of their estates. See id., ¶ 11. The deal 4 requires that the Garfield Trustee must accept an offer by February 1, 2016, open an 5 escrow by March 1, 2016, and close the sale by April 1, 2016, or the secured lender
6 will foreclose on its interests the Pasadena Real Properties. See id. The Garfield 7 Trustee is informed that two interested buyers are proposing to make offers on the 8 Pasadena Real Properties; however, both of their offers will be conditioned on a 9 transfer of the business assets and licenses of the Pasadena Debtors. See id.

10 At the initial hearing on the Revoke Motion held on September 2, 2015, the 11 Garfield Trustee appeared before the court with his counsel, Mark S. Horoupian, to 12 report the terms of an agreement they had negotiated with Mrs. Ferrer. See id., ¶ 10;
13 Request for Judicial Notice in Support of Revoke Motion [DN 471], Exhibit 3, 20 as counsel for the Garfield Trustee recited the terms of that agreement, and she 21 confirmed her agreement with those terms on the record through her counsel. See

23 Judicial Notice in Support of Revoke Motion [DN 471], Exhibit 3, Transcript of 24 Proceedings before the Honorable Robert Kwan, 20:1-22:8. Mrs. Ferrer also agreed to 25 meet with counsel for the Garfield Trustee and the Garfield Trustee at their offices 26 immediately following the hearing to sign a stipulation reflecting those terms. See 27 Reply to Revoke [DN 470], Supplemental Ehrenberg Decl., ¶ 10. Mrs. Ferrer 28 appeared at their office, but the stipulation was not final when she left, so she agreed

1 that she would sign it the following day. See id. They sent the stipulation to her 2 counsel that evening, but were told the following day that Mrs. Ferrer was in the 3 hospital and could not be reached to sign the stipulation. See id. After days of 4 attempts to obtain Mrs. Ferrer's signature, they were informed by her counsel that she 5 was not going to sign the stipulation despite her agreement on the record to do so. See 6 id. These facts about the renegeing of the settlement recited in open court are not 7 rebutted by the Pasadena Debtors.

8 The Pasadena Debtors have not presented the Garfield Trustee or the court with 9 any coherent plan as to what they intend to do if the Trustee is able to sell the 10 Pasadena Real Properties on which they operate their businesses, or if he is unable to 11 sell the properties, what they will do if the holder of the deeds of trust on the 12 properties proceeds with its foreclosure proceedings. See id. at ¶ 11; see also

16 II. CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

17 A. The Court has Jurisdiction to Vacate the Dismissals of the Pasadena 18 Cases

19 The Dismissal Order provides that, "The Court shall retain jurisdiction with 20 respect to all matters arising from or related to the implementation or interpretation of 21 this Order and the Stipulation." Dismissal Order [DN 366], ¶ 5. Movant made a 22 timely motion under Rule 9024 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, which 23 incorporates Rule 60(c) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

24 B. The Committee as the Original Movant, the Trustee as the 25 Substituted Movant, and the Parties Joining the Motion have 26 Standing to Bring the Motion Before the Court

27 The original moving party, the Committee, and the parties that the Committee 28 represented, the unsecured creditors, had standing to bring this Motion on the basis

1 that it was a party to the Stipulation, and was aggrieved by the fraud, 2 misrepresentations and misconduct of the Pasadena Debtors and the Insiders. As the 3 substituted movant, the Trustee of the Corona Debtors' bankruptcy estates now 4 represents the interests of the creditors of those estates, including the Professionals, 5 which had claims in the Joint Administered Cases, in place and instead of the 6 Committee. Further, the Trustee of the Garfield Debtors had standing to join in the 7 Motion as a creditor of the Pasadena Debtors, being owed at least $950,000.00 in 8 unpaid rent. Venable, LLP is one of the Professionals aggrieved by the conduct 9 alleged in the Motion and, therefore, had standing to join in the Motion.

10 C. The Trustee Has Proven by Clear and Convincing Evidence that the 11 Dismissals of the Pasadena Cases Were Obtained through Fraud, 12 Misrepresentation or Other Misconduct Pursuant to Rule 60(b)(3) of 13 the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure

14 Rule 60(b)(3) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, applicable to these 15 bankruptcy cases pursuant to Rule 9024 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy 16 Procedure, provides in pertinent part the following:

17 On motion and just terms . . . the court may relieve a party or its 18 legal representative from a final judgment, order, or proceeding for 19 the following reasons: . . . fraud (whether previously called intrinsic or extrinsic), misrepresentation, or misconduct of an opposing party.

20 "To prevail, the moving party must prove by clear and convincing evidence that the 21 verdict was obtained through fraud, misrepresentation, or other misconduct and the 22 conduct complained of prevented the losing party from fully and fairly presenting the 23 defense." De Saracho v. Custom Food Machinery, Inc., 206 F.3d 874, 880 (9th 24 Cir.2000) (citations omitted). FRCP 60(b)(3) is "aimed at judgments which were 25 unfairly obtained, not at those which are factually incorrect." Id., 206 F.3d at 880 26 (internal quotations omitted) (citation omitted).

1 Rule 60(b)(3) “require[s] that fraud . . . not be discoverable by due diligence
2 before or during the proceedings.” Casey v. Albertson’s Inc., 362 F.3d 1254, 1260 3 (9th Cir. 2004) (citation omitted). “Rule 60(b)(3) expressly permits judgments to be 4 set aside for fraud whether denominated intrinsic (i.e., perjury) or extrinsic (i.e., a 5 party prevented by trick, artifice or other fraudulent conduct from fairly presenting 6 his or her claim).” 3 Jones, Rosen, Wegner & Jones, *Rutter Group Practice Guide:
7 Federal Civil Trials & Evidence*, ¶ 20:388 at 20-76 (2015), citing Fed. R. Civ. P.
8 60(b)(3), United States v. Chapman, 642 F.3d 1236, 1240 (9th Cir. 2011), Info-Hold, 9 Inc. v. Sound Merchandising, Inc., 538 F.3d 448, 455 (6th Cir. 2008), Travelers 10 Indem. Co. v. Gore, 761 F.2d 1549, 1551 (11th Cir. 1985).

11 “[M]isrepresentation in Rule 60(b)(3) must encompass more than false 12 statements made with intent to deceive. Otherwise, it would be wholly subsumed 13 within the ‘fraud’ category.” 3 Jones, Rosen, Wegner & Jones, Rutter Group 14 Practice Guide: Federal Civil Trials & Evidence, ¶ 20:391 at 20-77, citing Klonoski 15 v. Mahlab, 156 F.3d 255, 274-275 (1st Cir. 1998), United States v. One Douglas A-16 26B Aircraft, 662 F.2d 1372, 1374-1375, n.6 (11th Cir. 1981) (innocent 17 misrepresentation sufficient) (internal quotations omitted). Additionally, with respect 18 to the “misconduct” of an opposing party, “[m]isconduct does not demand proof of 19 nefarious intent or purpose as a prerequisite to redress. . . . The term can cover even 20 accidental omissions—otherwise it would be pleonastic, because ‘fraud’ and 21 ‘misrepresentation’ would likely subsume it. . . . Accidents—at least avoidable 22 ones—should not be immune from the reach of the rule.” Jones v. Aero/Chem Corp., 23 921 F.2d 875, 879 (9th Cir. 1990), citing Anderson v. Cryovac, Inc., 862 F.2d 910, 24 923 (1st Cir. 1988).

25 The Trustee has satisfied his burden of proof under Rule 60(b)(3) in showing by 26 clear and convincing evidence that the Pasadena Debtors and Mrs. Ferrer, an Insider, 27 made certain misrepresentations to the stipulating Parties, including the Committee, 28 representing their creditors, as well as the Professionals, which are also creditors, that 1 caused them to agree to the dismissal of the Pasadena Cases and execute the 2 Stipulation. Specifically, the Pasadena Debtors and Mrs. Ferrer misrepresented that 3 they had received approval for the refinancing of the Pasadena Real Properties 4 sufficient to fund the Pasadena and Corona Debtors' exit from bankruptcy in 5 accordance with the terms of the Settlement; and that the financing was "imminent" 6 but required the dismissal of the Pasadena Cases before the loan could fund, when in 7 reality it was a sham and such funding had not been authorized or obtained by the 8 Pasadena Debtors or Mrs. Ferrer. See Revoke Motion [DN 443], Stanfield Decl., ¶ 4; 9 Reply to Revoke Motion [DN 470], Schwarzmans Decl., ¶¶ 4-11.

10 Additionally, before the Stipulation was executed and the Pasadena Debtors' 11 cases were dismissed, the Pasadena Debtors, the Garfield Debtors and Mrs. Ferrer, 12 among others, obligated the Pasadena Debtors and Garfield Debtors under the 13 Investor's Pot Note for $1 million without prior court approval. The Investor's Pot 14 Note was secured by real property that was to secure the financing to fund the 15 reorganization of the Corona Debtors, including the real property located at 1415 16 North Garfield Avenue in Pasadena, and by the personal property of the Pasadena 17 Debtors. See Reply to Revoke Motion [DN 470], Supplemental Ehrenberg Decl., ¶¶ 18 7-8 and Exhibit B thereto at 43 and 44, ¶ 4. However, the Investor's Pot Note was not 19 disclosed to the Professionals, including the Pasadena Debtors own financial advisor, 20 or stipulating Parties. See Reply to Revoke Motion [470], Supplemental Ehrenberg 21 Decl., ¶ 9; Reply to Revoke Motion [DN 470], Schwarzmans Decl., ¶ 9.

22 The fact that the Jointly Administered Debtors and the Insiders were negotiating 23 and entered into the undisclosed secured financing with Investor's Pot at the same 24 time they had sought and obtained the assent of the creditors, including the Committee 25 and the Professionals, to the Stipulation and Dismissal of the Pasadena Cases, telling 26 the latter that the "EB-5" financing was "imminent" to sufficiently fund the 27 reorganization of the Corona Cases and payment of creditor claims, including those of 28 the Professionals, indicates that the misrepresentations were not innocent, but

1 intentional, indicating “extrinsic fraud” (i.e., a party prevented by a trick, artifice or 2 other fraudulent conduct from fairly presenting his claim through entering into the 3 Stipulation and not opposing Dismissal of the Pasadena Cases). See 3 Jones, Rosen, 4 Wegner & Jones, Rutter Group Practice Guide: Federal Civil Trials & Evidence, ¶
5 20:388 at 20-76, citing Fed. R. Civ. P. 60(b)(3), United States v. Chapman, 642 F.3d
6 1236, 1240 (9th Cir. 2011), Info-Hold, Inc. v. Sound Merchandising, Inc., 538 F.3d
7 448, 455 (6th Cir. 2008), Travelers Indem. Co. v. Gore, 761 F.2d 1549, 1551 (11th 8 Cir. 1985).

9 The facts that the Pasadena Debtors and the Insiders failed to disclose material 10 facts to the creditors, including the Committee and the Professionals, that there was no 11 EB-5 Financing, imminent or otherwise, to reorganize and pay debts of the Jointly 12 Administered Debtors, including the obligations owed to the Professionals, through 13 the Corona Cases, and that the Jointly Administered Debtors and the Insiders had 14 already committed to obtaining secured financing from the Investors’ Pot Note, which 15 was inadequate to accomplish the represented objectives of paying the remaining debts 16 through the Corona Cases, which financing was obtained prejudgment, but not 17 disclosed to the creditors and the court, and that these failures to disclose material 18 facts induced the creditors to enter into the Stipulation and not oppose the Motion to 19 Dismiss the Pasadena Cases, which also demonstrates misconduct based on failures to 20 disclose material facts by the Jointly Administered Debtors and the Insiders to 21 demonstrate grounds for relief under Rule 60(b)(3). 3 Jones, Rosen, Wegner & Jones, 22 Rutter Group Practice Guide: Federal Civil Trials & Evidence, ¶ 20:391 at 20-77, 23 citing Klonoski v. Mahlab, 156 F.3d 255, 274-275 (1st Cir. 1998), United States v.
24 One Douglas A-26B Aircraft, 662 F.2d 1372, 1374-1375, n. 6 (11th Cir. 1981) 25 (innocent misrepresentation sufficient) (internal quotations omitted).

26 Both the financial advisor for the Pasadena and Corona Cases, Michael D.
27 Schwarzmman, and counsel for the Committee, Diane C. Stanfield, who were involved 28 in the Jointly Administered Cases as Professionals, testified that, but for the fraud,

1 misrepresentations, and misconduct of the Jointly Administered Debtors and their 2 Insiders, they would not have agreed to allow the dismissals of the Pasadena Debtors 3 on behalf of their respective firms, which were as Professionals administrative expense 4 creditors of the Jointly Administered Cases, including the Pasadena Cases, without full 5 payment of their administrative claims for professional fees. Ms. Stanfield testified 6 that the Committee would not have agreed to allow the dismissals of the Pasadena 7 Debtors, but for the misrepresentations. See Revoke Motion [DN 443], Stanfield 8 Decl., ¶ 5; Reply to Revoke Motion [DN 470], Schwarzmans Decl., ¶ 11. The court 9 finds that the testimony of Ms. Stanfield and Mr. Schwarzmans to be credible.

10 The Professionals and the Committee relied on the misrepresentations to their 11 detriment, in that the Professionals agreed to accept less than full payment in the 12 Pasadena Debtors' bankruptcy cases; and, as more fully set forth in the Stipulation, 13 the largest unsecured creditor, HCF, received less favorable treatment than other 14 similarly situated creditors by agreeing to be paid a partial payment of $550,000.00 on 15 account of its $3.8 million claim in connection with the dismissal of the Pasadena 16 Debtors' cases where the remainder of the general unsecured creditors of the Pasadena 17 Debtors' estates received payment in full. See Revoke Motion [DN 443], Stanfield 18 Decl., ¶ 5; Reply to Revoke Motion [DN 470], Schwarzmans Decl., ¶¶ 4-11; see also 19 Request for Judicial Notice in Support of Revoke Motion [DN 471], Exhibit 5,
20 Stipulation re: Motion Pursuant to Sections 305(a) and 1112(b) of the Bankruptcy
21 Code and for an Order Dismissing Chapter 11 Case.

22 Based on the foregoing, the court finds that the Trustee has shown by clear and 23 convincing evidence that when the Jointly Administered Debtors and the Insiders 24 made multiple misrepresentations of, and/or failed to disclose, material facts to the 25 Professionals and the Committee which induced them as their creditors to enter into 26 the Stipulation, this constituted a fraud, misrepresentation or other misconduct which 27 justifies the relief sought pursuant to Rule 60(b)(3) based on a showing of clear and 28 convincing evidence.

D. Alternatively, Extraordinary Circumstances also Justify Vacating the Dismissal Order of the Pasadena Cases Pursuant to Rule 60(b)(6) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure

Rule 60(b)(6) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, applicable to these bankruptcy cases pursuant to Rule 9024 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, provides a basis for relief “for any other reason that justifies relief.”

Under Rule 60(b)(6), an order “may be set aside when there is any reason not previously considered in the Rule that justifies granting relief.” Community Dental Services v. Tani, 282 F.3d 1164, 1168 (9th Cir. 2002). “Rule 60(b)(6) should be used sparingly as an equitable remedy to prevent manifest injustice and is to be utilized only where extraordinary circumstances prevented a party from taking timely action to prevent or correct an erroneous judgment.” Zurich Am. Ins. Co. v. Int’l Fibercom, Inc. (In re Int’l Fibercom, Inc.), 503 F.3d 933, 941 (9th Cir. 2007) (internal quotations omitted) (citations omitted). The moving “party must demonstrate both injury and circumstances beyond his control that prevented him from proceeding with the prosecution or defense of the action in a proper fashion.” Community Dental Services v. Tani, 282 F.3d at 1168 (citations omitted).

Since the court determines that the Dismissal Order should be vacated pursuant to Rule 60(b)(3), it need not reach a decision under the alternative provision of Rule 60(b)(6), but it would do so in the alternative if Rule 60(b)(3) did not apply. First, the court would find that the creditors of the Pasadena Debtors, including the Committee representing their interests, and the Professionals, were misled by the representations made by the Pasadena Debtors and the Insiders regarding the Stipulation and Motion to Dismiss the Pasadena Cases, and their ability to collect on their claims has been put at risk by the misrepresentations and the post-dismissal conduct of the Pasadena Debtors and the Insiders has led to a financially untenable situation for the Pasadena Debtors in that due to their failure to pay rent, they are facing eviction by the Garfield Trustee and cessation of operations upon expiration of the Leases in December 2015.

Moreover, the court observes that the evidence indicates that the conditions of the facilities of the Pasadena Debtors is deplorable and puts at risk the health and welfare of the more than 200 patients at the facilities. See Reply to Revoke Motion [DN 470], Tate Decl., ¶¶ 4-6 & 9 and Exhibit A thereto, Noncompliance Summaries & Facility Evaluation Reports, at 18, 21, 22, 26, 29, 30, 31, 34, 37, 38, 39. Additionally, the impending foreclosures of the Pasadena Real Properties and revocation of the Licenses puts the patients, who are primarily elderly and/or mentally ill, at risk of disruptive relocation that will further compromise their well-being, see Reply to Revoke Motion [DN 470], Tate Decl., ¶ 9, necessitating some sort of intervention to protect the interests of the patients at the facilities. These circumstances justify relief from judgment under Rule 60(b)(6) if Rule 60(b)(3) is inapplicable.

III. THE APPOINTMENT OF A CHAPTER 11 TRUSTEE TO SERVE IN THE REINSTATED PASADENA CASES IS WARRANTED PURSUANT TO 11 U.S.C. §§ 1104(A)(1) AND (2)

Having determined that it is appropriate to vacate the Dismissal Order of the Pasadena Debtors' Cases, the court now turns to consider the Trustee's motion to appoint a Chapter 11 trustee in the reinstated Pasadena Cases.

Section 1104(a) of the Bankruptcy Code provides that:

At any time after the commencement of the case but before confirmation of a plan, on request of a party in interest or the United States trustee, and after notice and a hearing, the court shall order the appointment of a trustee—

(1) for cause, including fraud, dishonesty, incompetence, or gross mismanagement of the affairs of the debtor by current management, but not including the number of holders of securities of the debtor or the amount of assets or liabilities of the debtor; or

(2) if such appointment is in the interests of creditors, any equity security holders, and other interests of the estate, without regard to the number of holders of securities of the debtor or the amount of assets or liabilities of the debtor.

11 U.S.C. § 1104(a) (emphasis added).

1 The parties seeking appointment of a Chapter 11 trustee under 11 U.S.C.
2 § 1104(a) have the burden of proving appropriate grounds exist for such 3 appointment by the preponderance of the evidence. 1 March, Ahart and 9 (concluding that appointment of trustee requires clear and convincing evidence, 10 but decided before Grogan v. Garner, stating that preponderance of the 11 evidence standard applies unless express congressional direction to apply higher 12 standard), see, 1 March, Ahart and Shapiro, California Practice Guide– 13 Bankruptcy ¶ 4:2001 at 4-144). Cause and the best interest of creditors and 14 other parties are separate and independent bases for granting a motion to appoint 15 a trustee under 11 U.S.C. § 1104(a).

16 A. Appointment of a Trustee is Warranted Under 11 U.S.C. §
17 1104(a)(1)

18 The list of the enumerated “causes” under Section 1104(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy 19 Code, 11 U.S.C., is nonexhaustive. See In re Bellevue Place Assocs., 171 B.R. at 622-20 623; see also Local Bankruptcy Rule 1001-2(5) (“includes” and “including” are not 21 limiting). A determination of cause is within the discretion of the court and due 22 consideration must be given to the various interests involved in the bankruptcy 23 proceeding. See In re Bellevue Place Assocs., 171 B.R. at 623-624. Some cases have 24 held that, once a court finds that “cause” exists to appoint a trustee under 11 U.S.C. § 25 1104(a)(1), a trustee shall be appointed and there is no discretion to deny relief. 1

1 The court determines that the Trustee has satisfied his burden of showing the 2 existence of fraud, dishonesty, incompetence and gross management on the part of the 3 Pasadena Debtors and the Insiders, as set forth in the record above. Additionally, 4 since the court has granted the motion to vacate the dismissals of the Pasadena Cases, 5 the court finds that the health and safety concerns of the patients constitute cause to 6 appoint a trustee to help oversee the conditions of the facilities and the care of patients.
7 If a fiduciary is not put in place to stabilize the situation involving patient care, one or 8 more of a number of bad things may result: the Garfield Trustee, in the exercise of his 9 fiduciary duties, will terminate the Leases for nonpayment; the Leases will expire and 10 the Pasadena Debtors will lose their right to operate at the facilities; the Pasadena Real 11 Properties will be sold; or the secured lender on the Pasadena Real Properties will 12 foreclose. Any of these will result in the loss of the current Licenses of the Pasadena 13 Debtors such that they cannot be transferred, necessitating the safe relocation of the 14 patients.

15 B. Appointment of a Trustee is Warranted Under 11 U.S.C. §
16 1104(a)(2)

17 With respect to whether a trustee should be appointed under Section 1104(a)(2) 18 of the Bankruptcy Code, 11 U.S.C., the courts look to the totality of the circumstances.
19 See In re Hotel Associates, Inc., 3 B.R. 343, 345 (Bankr. E.D. Pa. 1980) (The 20 bankruptcy courts “look to the practical realities and necessities inescapably involved 21 in reconciling competing interest.”). The appointment of a trustee under 11 U.S.C. § 22 1104(a)(2) is appropriate, for example, where there is gross mismanagement and 23 continued financial excesses by current management to protect the interests of the 24 estate and creditors. See In re La Sherene, Inc., 3 B.R. 169, 175-76 (Bankr. N.D. Ga.
25 1980).

26 As the evidentiary record above demonstrates, the Pasadena Debtors have acted 27 in bad faith in making the misrepresentations to their creditors, including those 28 represented by the Committee and the Professionals, and have not acted responsibly in

1 the treatment of the creditors and the patients under their charge, in reckless disregard 2 of the dire financial realities of its businesses. The Pasadena Debtors have been in 3 default in the payment of rent for a number of months and are at risk of losing their 4 Leases and being evicted as well as losing their Licenses as a consequence. They have 5 failed to respond to the Garfield Trustee's demands for payment of rent; they have 6 suggested no plan to the Garfield Trustee or this court in response to the motion as to 7 what will happen to the patients upon a sale or foreclosure of the Pasadena Real 8 Properties; and they maintain their facilities in poor condition jeopardizing the health 9 and safety of the patients, all of which necessitates the appointment of a trustee to 10 protect the interests of the estate, creditors and equity holders under 11 U.S.C. § 11 1104(a)(2). See In re Corona Care Convalescent Corp., 527 B.R. at 384-385 and n.
12 4. The Pasadena Debtors and the Insiders, the equity holders, face a hopeless financial 13 situation in that they have no exit strategy to continue operations, reorganize and pay 14 debts due to their rent defaults and the nonrenewal of the Leases on the premises 15 where they operate by the Garfield Trustee for rent nonpayment. The only way for the 16 creditors and the equity holders to realize value from the assets of the Pasadena 17 Debtors is a sale of the assets coordinated with the sale of the underlying real property 18 held in the bankruptcy estates of the Garfield Debtors. The Pasadena Debtors have 19 offered no other options, and the evidence indicates to this court that there are no other 20 options. Thus, the court determines that to best effectuate a combined and orderly sale 21 of the assets to realize value of the bankruptcy estates of the Pasadena Debtors as well 22 as the Garfield Debtors as well as to protect the safety and welfare of the patients in 23 residence at the facilities operated by the Pasadena Debtors, a trustee should be 24 appointed in the interest of creditors, the equity holders and the other interests of the 25 estate pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1104(a)(2).

26 For the foregoing reasons, the appointment of a trustee is warranted pursuant to 27 11 U.S.C. §§ 1104(a)(1) and (2) based on the preponderance of the evidence.
