

United States Bankruptcy Court
Central District of California

Audio/Visual Manager

The United States Bankruptcy Court, Central District of California is accepting applications for the position of Audio/Visual Manager in the Los Angeles office. The Audio/Visual Manager is an excellent opportunity for a motivated leader with an unyielding commitment to the technical advancement of the federal judiciary. The Audio/Visual Manager will lead a dynamic team in implementing state of the art audio visual technology in courtrooms, conference rooms, and collaborative spaces, including evidence presentation, video conferencing, sound systems, digital recording, digital signage, and IP based telephonic communication systems. The Central District is home to one of the largest bankruptcy courts in the nation, with five divisional offices located in Los Angeles, Santa Ana, Riverside, Woodland Hills, and Santa Barbara, serving a population of 19.4 million people, with 22 judges and over 200 Clerk's Office and chambers employees.

The Audio/Visual Manager directs and oversees the installation and maintenance of the Court's telecommunications and audiovisual systems. These include videoconferencing, audio conferencing, digital recording, courtroom sound systems, digital signage, structured cabling, telephone, and other audiovisual systems as needed. Specific duties include, but are not limited to the following: planning, organizing, directing, evaluating, analyzing, and coordinating the activities and functions of the department; fostering and maintaining an environment that promotes high morale, productivity, quality and customer service; and interacting effectively with judges and chambers staff. The Audio/Visual Manager will establish and maintain effective and productive working relationships with vendors, contractors, customers, and co-workers. Routine travel between the Los Angeles, Santa Ana, Riverside, Woodland Hills, and Santa Barbara divisional offices will be required. The Audio/Visual Manager reports to the Chief Deputy of Administration.
